

Family Culture Session Two: Show & Tell

Introduction

During the preschool years, our children move from witnessing and absorbing our values and practices to expressing curiosity about them. Their questions encourage us clarify what we believe in, and our answers help our children prepare to learn beside us as we offer the next phases of spiritual teaching.

Question

Look at the examples below and consider how you might fill in the blanks to make the sentences true for your family. Write your own sentences if you choose.

Invitation

This week, I invite you to notice how your values influence your day habits and the things you teach your children. If you'd like, try answering your children's questions as they arise using the "Because we think <this value> is important, we <do this thing>." framework shown in the video.

Example: Fill-in-the-Blank

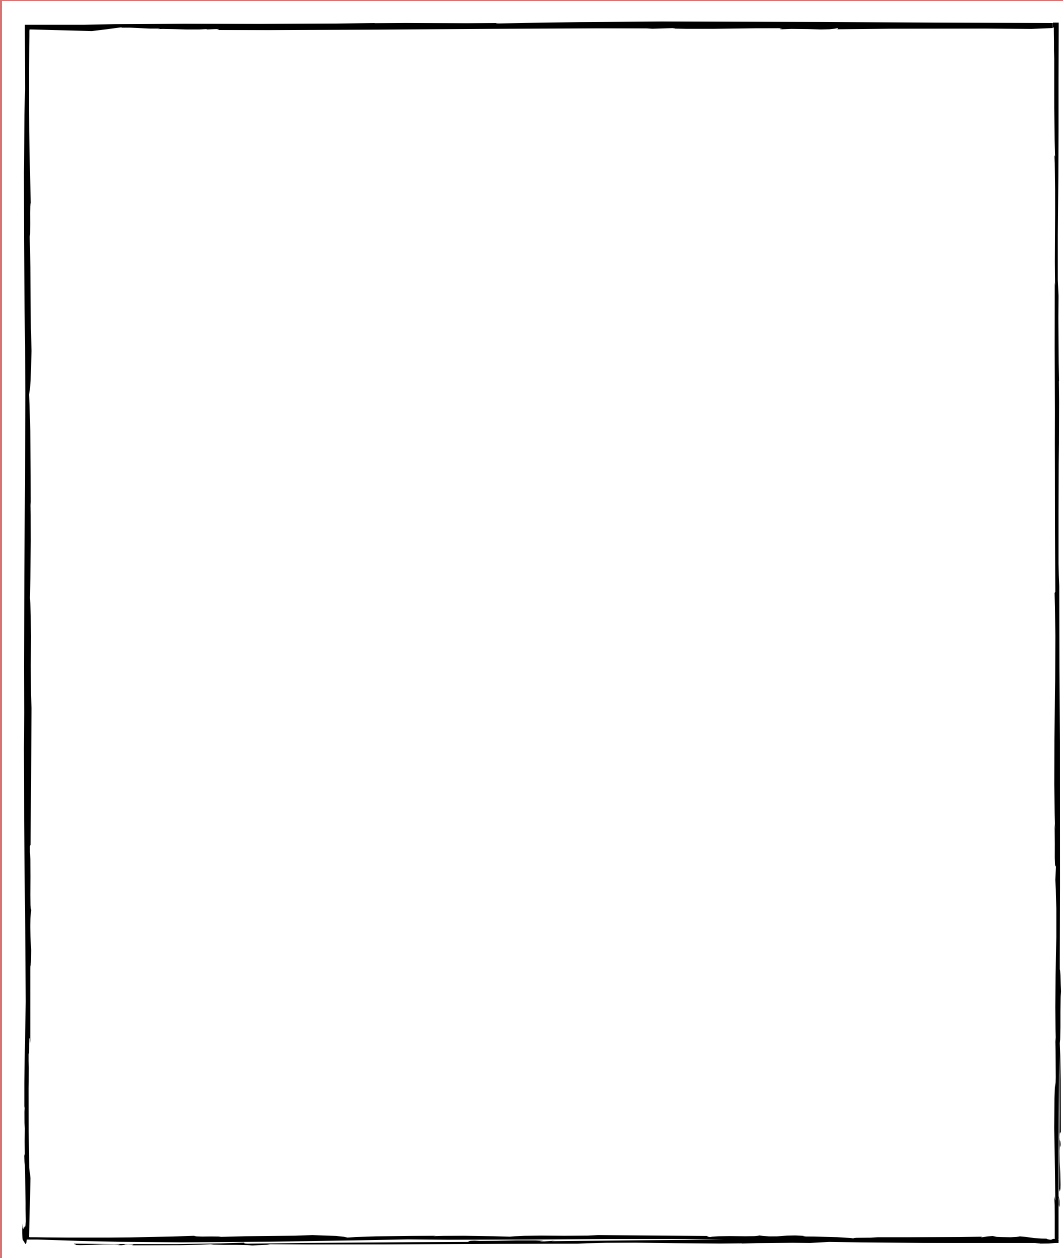

Because we think creativity is important, we have a daily art time

Because we think our UU identity is important, we light the chalice

Because we think keeping things tidy is important, we clean up together

Session Two: Notes

How would you rewrite the sentences on page on to make them true for your family? Feel free to take notes here.

A large, empty rectangular box with a black border, intended for taking notes. It is centered on a solid red background.